Family & Lifestyle Photography
Creating images that tell your story.

My goal, as a family photographer, is to create images that tell your story.

These sessions include family, engagements, couples, maternity as well as any special birthday celebrations, taken on location (your home, nearby park or beach) and whenever possible with natural light.

Investment starts at ZAR4,950 for a family photography session for a group of up to 5 lasts about 1 hour. If there are more people in your group, please add R350 per person.

The end result is 40-50 edited high and low resolution digital images shared on Dropbox for you to download and print as you wish.

Gift Vouchers for this package are available on request.

Copyright

As the client who commissions me to photograph your event, yourself and/or your family, you have ownership of these photos.

In order to promote my services, I usually post a selection of photos onto my website and business social media pages (Facebook and Instagram).

If however, you would prefer me NOT to post any photos from your shoot, please let me know.

Kindly credit "Brenda Wardall Photography" with any images that you might publish or share from our shoot, thank you .

Photo books are a beautiful way of keeping your photo memories. I use either photos I have taken and/or your photos. Having an annual story of your family is a wonderful gift.

I use ORMS for printing of my own personal photobooks and highly recommend them. They have very user-friendly layout software that you can download yourself but if you don't have the time or know-how, I would love to do the layout and arrange printing for you at R825/hour for the layout plus a 40% charge on printing.

Let's chat about your getting your perfect book printed.
